

Indigenous people in Canada have reason to be proud of their wartime contributions. More than 7,000 First Nations members served in the First and Second World Wars and the Korean War, and an unknown number of Inuit, Métis and other Indigenous people also participated. One Veterans group estimates that 12,000 Indigenous men and women served in the three wars.

Each year the United Native Friendship Center honours our Indigenous and all Veterans On November 11.

This year we are putting together a slide show presentation featuring images and names of Veterans who have served or continue to serve.

Please consider submitting pictures and names of family members to help us honour and remember those who have served.

For more information call Rochelle Bird 807 274-8541 or to submit information and images email rbird@unfc.org.

If you have pictures you would like included that need to be digitized please visit our reception area at 516 Portage Ave and we can scan the image and return it you on the spot.

Thank you for your contribution in honouring our loved ones who have served.
